INTRODUCTION

Adventure through Peruvian mountains, Japanese landscapes and English botanical gardens with the four new fabric collections.

Embracing Aztec-inspired pattern, Oriental foliage and vibrant hand-painted florals, the new designs bring a sense of the outdoors into any home, no matter your interior taste.

Not only have Prestigious been inspired by Planet Earth, they're also considering the environment. Marking a new chapter in the world of eco-friendly textiles, two of the four new collections are the first of many in the PT Eco range of sustainable fabrics.

There's no time to waste, discover the new 2021 collections and explore the world around you...

HARLOW

A vibrant collection of hand-painted florals, Jacobean and damasks, Harlow combines upbeat design with sustainability. The debut collection from PT Eco has been inspired by English botanical gardens and designed with the environment in mind. Combining both recycled polyester and sustainably grown Organic Cotton, Harlow's prints, weaves and embroideries reduce waste and eliminate the need for harmful chemicals.

Our new range of responsibly sourced PT Eco fabrics have been designed with the environment in mind. Combining both recycled polyester and sustainably grown Organic Cotton, the materials reduce waste and eliminate the need for harmful chemicals; leaving the soil we walk on, the air we breathe and the water we drink free from contaminants. Our two new sustainable collections offer the same trend-led and colour confident designs you would expect

WHISP

Introducing Whisp, a PT Eco collection of recycled semi-sheers. The stunning wide-width fabrics drape beautifully and offer a light linen-look to any window dressing. Also suitable for accessories, Whisp embraces an ethereal soft pastel colour palette, all while helping the planet and reducing landfill waste.

KYOTO

Designed with Oriental influences, Kyoto celebrates the wonders of Japan. The collection's six designs take inspiration from Japanese gardens, offering a range of prints and opulent jacquards embracing lotus flowers, watercolour foliage and an origami-inspired geometric. Presented in a palette taken from East Asian landscapes, Kyoto has the perfect blend of calming neutrals and warm, spiced shades.

INCA TRAIL

The Aztec-inspired Inca Trail draws influence from Peruvian landscapes with its interlocking patterns and textures. Embracing a palette of warm earthy tones, the collection's bold prints and weaves replicate the extraordinary textures of Machu Picchu with their natural and traditional woven finish.
