

A/W23
Collections

A window with floral curtains and a view of a house in a garden. The curtains are white with a dense pattern of red, orange, and green flowers and leaves. The window looks out onto a green landscape with a white house and trees. A decorative cushion with a house pattern is on the windowsill. The floor is made of light-colored wood in a herringbone pattern.

ARRIVE IN AUTUMN

Dress your interiors to impress this Autumn/Winter with the latest fabric offerings. Colour-rich prints, striking jacquards, and sheers brimming with interest are just snippets of this season's exclusive portfolio.

From the runways of high fashion houses to sweeping landscapes, our design team have found inspiration in all corners of the world. These diverse sources of beauty have been translated into awe-inspiring designs. Vibrant depictions of Eastern Asian cultures, multi-tonal weaves, and tropical-inspired jacquards highlight the inherent luxury of our A/W 23 launch.

Seven new collections have been introduced for the season, whilst our staple plain Saxon has been given a new lease of life with 23 new colourways. Each collection tells a story through its designs for entrancing whole room schemes, whilst also presenting beautifully as standalone finishes for eye-catching focal points.

Our A/W 23 launch has taken the PT portfolio to new heights. Allow yourself to be drawn in by this season's captivating finishes, and discover the possibilities they present for your interiors.

POETRY

Encapsulating high fashion's revival of the folklore trend, Poetry presents a whimsical combination of prints, jacquards, and embroideries, paying homage to the Arts and Crafts movement. Suitable for upholstery, conversational Jacobean prints depict trailing florals and painterly woodland scenes. Poetry's delicately tactile embroideries have been finished using a range of techniques for maximum interest. Soft style geometrics provide a contemporary contrast against timeless finishes, with an embroidered sheer rounding off the collection's whimsical portfolio. Poetry's folklore story continues into the collection's palette, with warming tones ranging from delicate sages to deep navy hues owing a nod to the collection's ethereal influences.

ECHO

Tropical and luxury go hand-in-hand in the Echo Collection. Allow yourself to be transported through lush rainforests with the collection's maximalist depictions of exotic flora and fauna. Opulent jacquards remain the stars of the show, featuring two-tone palm leaves and tactile geometric designs presenting a subtle sheen. Suitable for upholstery, the collection's iridescent velvet showcases a striking animal print for entrancing focal points. A delicate, matt-finish palm embroidery provides a welcome contrast against prevalent hints of metallic, with a palette spanning opulent jewel tones, amber and midnight hues anchoring Echo's tropical take on grandeur.

Diverse landscapes and rugged mountain ranges have been imaginatively interpreted in Sierra. Six intriguing weaves present multi-tonal finishes and space-dyed yarns throughout, guaranteeing visual interest. A circular, multi-dimensional design features a boucle yarn for a fresh take on the boucle trend, complemented by vibrant, small-scale geometrics and intriguing multi-dimensional finishes. An Earthy palette anchors Sierra's influences of rugged landscapes, spanning dusky pinks and natural tones to vibrant amber hues. Infinitely versatile, all designs are suitable for upholstery yet drape beautifully, perfect for whole-room schemes.

SIERRA

JASMINE

Mesmerising landscapes have been perfectly embodied in the orientally-inspired finishes of Jasmine. An ode to the beauty of Japanese influences, statement, full colour prints take centre stage, all part of our PT Eco portfolio. Depictions of swooping heron birds and oriental florals in full bloom capture the beauty of East Asian culture, complemented by delicate botanical illustrations and sprawling sun palm designs. Two inspirational jacquards anchor the collection's ethereal nature, with the duo presenting hints of metallic throughout for a luxurious twist on the Japandi trend.

Say hello to Blanco. A trio of wide width sheers each present subtle interest within their strikingly simple designs, draping beautifully within even the largest of window spaces. Character is added through intricate herringbone and cross hatch finishes, designed to pair cohesively for entrancing layered window finishes. A palette of on-trend, warm neutrals showcase a stonewashed effect for an inherently lived-in feel. Hints of colour, ranging from sage tones to dusky pink hues, offer a characterful take on the trend for sheer fabrics.

BLANCO

OPULENCE

Decadence remains at the heart of the Opulence Collection. A faux silk finish presents a textured slub reminiscent of raw silk, anchoring the collection's luxurious nature. Thirty Seven decadent colourways, ranging from rich jewel tones and on-trend midnight hues to core naturals, encapsulate the most timeless and contemporary interior trends. Striking the perfect balance between elegance and versatility, Opulence is ideal for both drapery and upholstery, making itself at home in a range of interior settings.

Presenting Buxton, the quintessence of simplicity and style. The collection's inherently versatile plain finish features a stonewash marl effect for added interest, suiting Buxton to upholstery, drapery, blinds, and accessories. A trend-led palette, spanning core naturals and enveloping charcoal hues to contemporary desert tones, firmly establishes Buxton as a core offering within the PT portfolio.

BUXTON

SAXON

Timeless yet contemporary, our enduringly popular Saxon fabric is now finished in 58 diverse colourways that encapsulate the most on-trend hues, from gentler neutrals to warming amber tones. Bolstering the collection's versatility, Saxon's revised palette offers countless ways to harmonise with individual tastes in home décor styling. A 100,000+ rub count suits Saxon to increasingly high traffic areas, and is ideal for upholstery, drapery, or accessories. The collection's wide-width option, Jorvik, is available in selected colours.
